

Abraham

A Journey to the Heart of Three Faiths

Travel through the war zones of the contemporary Middle East with Bruce Feiler, NPR commentator and author of the runaway New York Times bestsellers Walking the Bible and Abraham. At a moment when the world is asking "Can the religions get along?" Bruce Feiler set out on a personal quest to explore the shared ancestor of Jews, Christians, and Muslims. Abraham was featured on the cover of Time Magazine, was named one of the best books of the year by numerous publications, and inspired hundreds of grassroots interfaith discussions around the world.

Join us for this special evening with a dynamic speaker and come away with a fresh understanding of how Abraham shaped the history of faith and can serve as a uniting figure to inspire a new generation of inter-religious dialogue.
